To Whom It May Concern:

As a primary care physician who is taking care of patients with debilitating injuries such as strokes, traumatic brain injury, and other serious medical conditions; I have seen patients in need of communication assistance.

The use of technology such as Quiet Voices will allow patients to enhance communication at a time in their life where this skill is so compromised. This can make the difference of a successful interaction where the patient can communicate their needs to their caretakers and family members.

I hope more institutions will adopt this technology to allow for better care of their clients.

Sincerely
